

CONSORZIO COLLIO
Consorzio Tutela Vini Collio

Collio Award
dedicated to "Sigismondo Douglas Attems of Petzenstein" XVII edition
—
Year 2024

section A) bachelor's or master's degree thesis section B) research doctorate

Section C) best italian journalistic article – informative

Section D) best foreign journalistic article – informative

The Consorzio Tutela Vini Collio [Consortium For The Protection of Wines from Collio], in collaboration with University of Udine, MIB Trieste School of Management, and ARGA Friuli Venezia Giulia, in memory of Count Sigismondo Douglas Attems of Petzenstein, has instituted a competition for the conferral of four awards. The competition aims to reward activities that have brought a valuable contribution to viticulture, oenology and enhancement of the Collio territory on the scientific, applicative and informative levels.

It is divided into four sections:

Section A) best bachelor's or master's degree thesis, amount of the Prize € 750.00

Section B) best research doctorate, amount of the Prize € 1.000.00

Section C) best Italian journalistic article – informative € 1.000.00

Section D) best foreign journalistic article – informative € 1.000,00

To the competition are admitted:

for Section A :

The students of European Universities who have presented their degree thesis during the period 31.03.2019 – 01.04.2024. Thesis both from bachelor's and master's degree courses will be accepted. It will be an asset in the evaluation if projects treat topics related to research on viticulture, oenology, white grape varieties, or white wines, with specific reference to the hill areas of Friuli Venezia Giulia or, even better, to the Collio denomination, as well as topics related to the enhancement of the territory. The thesis can be written in Italian, English, or French and must be accompanied by a brief summary in English or Italian. The digital copy of the papers, along with the candidate's CV, must be sent to segreteria@collio.it by 01.04.2024. A paper copy must be sent by regular post service to CONSORZIO TUTELA VINI COLLIO, Via Gramsci 2, 34071 CORMONS (GO), Italy.

for Section B:

PhD graduates from European Universities who have presented their doctoral thesis (PhD) during the period 31.03.2019 – 01.04.2024. Papers which constitute a concrete advancement of knowledge in the areas of viticulture and oenology, furthermore substantiated by publications in scientific journals, will be in particular positively evaluated. The dissertation on topics regarding research on white grape varieties or wines, with specific reference to the hill areas of Friuli Venezia Giulia or even better to the Collio denomination, as well as topics related to the enhancement of the territory, will be an asset in the evaluation. The thesis can be written in Italian, English, or French and must be accompanied by a brief summary in English or Italian. The digital copy of the papers, along with the candidate's CV, must be sent to segreteria@collio.it by 01.04.2024. A paper copy must be sent by regular post service to CONSORZIO TUTELA VINI COLLIO, Via Gramsci 2, 34071 CORMONS (GO), Italy.

for Section C:

Italian journalists who have written an informative article for newspapers, magazines, radio or television services, Web, or a publication in Italy during the period 31.03.2019 – 01.04.2024, on the following topics: white grape varieties and wines, promotion and communication of the same, as well as topics related to the enhancement of the territory, with specific reference to the hill areas of Friuli Venezia Giulia or even better to the Collio denomination. The articles, video contributions, or journalistic web productions must be sent by 01.04.2024 to segreteria@collio.it and to argafvg@gmail.com.

for Section D:

Foreign journalists who have written an informative article for newspapers, magazines, radio or television services, Web, or a publication in Italy during the period 31.03.2019 – 01.04.2024, on the following topics: white grape varieties and wines, promotion and communication of the same, as well as topics related to the enhancement of the territory, with specific reference to the hill areas of Friuli Venezia Giulia or even better to the Collio denomination. We will assess entries in English, Slovenian, German, French and in other European or Asiatic languages as long as they will be accompanied by a brief summary in English. The articles, video contributions, or journalistic web productions must be sent by 01.04.2024 to segreteria@collio.it and to argafvg@gmail.com.

The Selection Board includes: the President of the Bachelor's Degree Course in Viticulture and Oenology and the President of the Master's Degree Course in Viticulture, Oenology and Wine Marketing of the University of Udine, the Academic Director of Wine Business studies of the MIB Trieste School of Management of Trieste, the President of the Regional Association of Journalists for Agriculture, Agri-Food, Environment and the Territory of Friuli Venezia Giulia or his representative, the Vice President of the Consorzio Tutela Vini Collio.

The Selection Board reserves the right to assess works relating to the subjects outlined by this competition, whether or not directly submitted by the author.

The winners will be informed of the conferral of an award by the Consorzio Tutela Vini Collio di Cormons (GO). The prizes will be awarded during a ceremony to be held on 01.06.2024 at another location chosen and communicated by the Consorzio.

For further information, you may contact the secretariat of the Consorzio Tutela Vini Collio (tel.+39 0481 630303; e-mail segreteria@collio.it).